Mr Satan Loses Everything

I've had a couple of ideas for some really neat story challenges I'd like to issue to anyone interested. Assuming they're done seriously, each of these ideas have a lot of potential for high view numbers and follower registration so bear with me.

Mr. Satan Loses Everything: A short time after the birth of his granddaughter Pan, Mr. Satan is exposed as an outright fraud, and loses everything he has built. Because of this, Mr. Satan is forced to move in with Videl and Gohan. Unfortunately, due to her father being exposed, Videl also loses her entire inheritance, putting them in a situation where her husband is the only breadwinner left in the home. To make matters worse, Gohan and Videl face the prospect of losing the home Mr. Satan built for them, forcing Gohan to come out and take credit for defeating Cell just so they can keep their house. Tensions eventually boil over and Mark Satan is soon given an ultimatum by his daughter and son-in-law. Join Mark Satan as he and his daughter with the help of Gohan strive to pick up the pieces in a world where everyone has turned against them.

Rediscovery: Shortly after Pan's birth, Gohan and Videl have become disgusted with how far they've fallen since giving up martial arts. Join the young married couple as they enlist Piccolo's/Roshi's help in their quest to rediscover themselves and get back in shape.
